

ICSA– Control Environment (due April 30, 2020)

Each agency is responsible for establishing and maintaining an effective system of internal control. Internal controls can provide reasonable, but not absolute, assurance that an agency's objectives—including the prevention or detection of fraud, waste and abuse—will be met. More information about internal controls and minimal internal control structure requirements can be found in Topic 05 of the State of Arizona Accounting Manual (SAAM). The internal control self-assessment is meant as a catalyst to improve agency operations and achieve agency objectives.

This survey is a self-assessment of certain internal control practices within your agency in the area of Control Environment. Some of these practices may not be required by policy but are nonetheless considered best practices.

If your response to a survey item is sensitive in nature, contact GAO's Internal Audit Unit (gaointernalaudit@azdoa.gov, 602-542-6223) directly to discuss it.

The items in this survey are to be rated, using either Yes/No/NA or the 5-point scale as indicated by each question. The following guidance is provided for the 5-point scale ratings:

Not Applicable (0) – Practice does not apply.

Needs Improvement (1) – Practices have not been fully implemented or are intermittent; acceptable quality and timeliness are recurring challenges.

Fair (2) – Practices meet the minimum expectations but are not consistently monitored; acceptable quality and timeliness are inconsistent.

Good (3) – Practices meet expectations and are monitored frequently; acceptable quality and timeliness are consistent.

Very Good (4) – Practices exceed expectations; quality and timeliness are consistently above average.

Excellent (5) – Practices serve as a model for other agencies and other states; quality and timeliness exceed expectations; best-in-class results.

Control Environment –

The control environment refers to the overall attitude, awareness and actions of management regarding the system of internal controls and its importance to the agency. In part, the control environment is expressed through the integrity and ethical values demonstrated by and insisted upon by the agency's leadership—which is to say, the tone at the top. The tone at the top sets an agency's guiding values and ethical climate and has a trickle-down effect on employees of the agency. The organization's structure, policies and practices are all components of the control environment. The survey items below are driven by SAAM policies and best practices.

1. The agency leadership has established and maintains a culture of integrity and high ethical standards (SAAM 0505).(0-5 scale)
2. Each agency employee is trained on and acknowledges in writing (signature) their understanding of either the Standards of Conduct as described in the State Personnel System Employee Handbook, or expected standards of ethical and moral behavior as described by the agency (www.hr.az.gov). (Y/N/NA)
3. As required by A.R.S. §38-501 through 511, each agency employee discloses in writing all substantial interests and these documents are maintained for public inspection. (0-5 scale)
4. Objectives, goals and performance measures are established and communicated for key areas (e.g., operations, financial reporting, compliance, etc.) and reviewed by senior management at least monthly. (Y/N/NA)
5. The agency has a mechanism for employees to report suspected fraud, theft, waste or abuse. (Y/N/NA)
6. All instances (even suspected instances) of fraud, theft, waste or abuse are reported to GAO (gaointernalaudit@azdoa.gov), the Auditor General and Attorney General. (SAAM 0530) (Y/N)
7. The agency maintains an up-to-date organizational chart that clearly defines the lines of management authority and responsibility. (0-5 scale)
8. The agency maintains up-to-date written position descriptions that detail each position's responsibilities and qualifications. (0-5 scale)
9. The agency has implemented and follows statewide policies as required by SAAM (<https://gao.az.gov/publications/saam>). (0-5 scale)
10. The agency consistently follows SAAM 0015 when requesting exceptions to GAO policies and procedures. (0-5 scale)
11. The agency has implemented and follows all required Statewide IT Policies, Standards and Procedures (ADOA ASET). These Statewide IT Policies, Standards and Procedures
